From the President's Desk

Over the years we have grown into a wide variety of different ages, backgrounds and heritages. Much like the original members who came from all over the country to train and work together. They worked to protect our country, our freedom and our way of life.

Each year we gather together to spend a few days visiting with our members who share an interest in remembering the original members experiences and adventures. As we visit in the Hospitality Room it gives us an opportunity to get to know each other and learn more about the Bomber Group and what they accomplished.

This year we have a variety of tours and activities that are both informative and entertaining. Thursday morning we are going to tour Hill Air Force base and will return to the hotel after lunch. Later in the afternoon we are having a 'Warriors Call' where you will have an opportunity to visit with our original members and people who are currently in the 388th Fighter Wing. I believe this is a unique opportunity that we have not had in the past.

Friday morning we are going to a more civilian type attraction - Antelope Island State Park which I believe is in the Great Salt Lake. A Park Ranger will give us a tour and we should be able to see buffalo on the island where the pioneers kept their cattle to protect them from the hazards in the area. After the tour we will have lunch at a local restaurant that is rumored to be one of Scott Long's favorites. Following lunch one bus will return to the hotel and the other will continue to the Hill Aerospace Museum. This way people who want to rest can return to the hotel and the younger members can visit the museum.

Col. Landrum the fighter wing commander is scheduled to speak at the Banquet Saturday night which will wrap up our festivities for the week.

Fun, interesting and educational reunions will continue to help us honor our original members and keep attracting new members. Frances and Paul Ammons have been hard at work on this year's reunion at Hill Air Force base.

In closing, anyone interested in being the secretary for the association and/or help plan the 2016 reunion – please let me know.

Rick Thompson

National Museum of the Mighty Eighth Air Force

I hope all is well with the 388th Bomb Group Association. The Museum is continuing to honor and preserve the stories of the Mighty Eighth for future generations. This summer, the Museum is welcoming over 100 local children who are learning the history of the Mighty Eighth while earning their pilots wings in the Flying Legends Camp, strategizing bombing missions in the Battle Strategies Camp, and becoming our next generations of soldiers in Combat Camp. It is exciting to see the next generation's enthusiasm for Mighty Eighth and our military.

I also want to let you know about a new 24 month calendar honoring the past generations with current generations. Each month of the calendar highlights World War II veterans, their stories and their daughters, granddaughters or great granddaughters with their bomber jacket or other World War II artifacts. Presented by the Buckhead Bomber Girls of Atlanta, all proceeds benefit the Museum.

Mr. Curvat, I want to ensure that everyone in the 388th Bomb Group Association is aware of this wonderful project. Since everyone is not able to visit the Museum, in your next newsletter, e-mail, or social media post, could you notify your members about the calendar to ensure that everyone knows about this new product available in our Museum store. It is $24.95 for one or $19.95 for three or more. To order, visit our on-line store at www.mightyeighth.org or by calling Felice Stelljes at 912-988-1843.

"Through Their Eyes, Into Our Hearts"

A New Opportunity For You To Support Our 388th BG Veterans

As a tribute to our original members, we invite sons, daughters, grandsons and granddaughters, other family members, friends and colleagues to be part of a new video that is being made by the 388th Bomb Group Association. As we continue to honor our WWII heroes, we hope you will consider sharing a special memory, an anecdote or a reflection from a time when you were privileged to hear your loved one's stories of service, sacrifice, dedication and commitment to preserving the freedoms that our country and the world have today. What does their legacy mean to you personally? Have you visited a place that meant a lot to them, or shared a quiet moment together, spoken to one of their former crew members or comrades, or read a book or article that stirred you? Please consider sharing your thoughts and impressions as we archive what this Greatest Generation means to us as an association. It will be an enduring reminder of the values, patriotism and courage that our heroes possess, and how they have affected each of us in ways that have changed us personally, and have made our nation great. Take a few moments to offer your support by talking further with us. If you are camera-shy, you can just share a couple of pictures or photos, and we'll simply record your thoughts. A voice-over works just great and is very meaningful.

If you would like to participate in this project, please contact Terry Woodford-Thomas by email (tthomas@danforthcenter.org) or phone (314-587-1436). We will have a HD video camera and voice recorder available at the 2014 Layton, UT/Hill AFB reunion in August. Plans are to have the video ready to premiere at the 2015 reunion in Washington, DC.

The Lighter Side

All sorts of heroes walk among us

We were having a garage sale, and I was talking to an older gentleman wearing a retired Air Force hat. I asked him about the hat and he told me that he had been a navigator on B17 "Flying Fortress" bombers during the Second World War. He also served in Korea and Vietnam. He retired as a lieutenant colonel. I stopped by his home in Fortuna the next day and he gave me a copy of the booklet that he had written. The book was titled "My Eighth for the 8th." It was an account of his last (eighth) B17 mission for the 8th Air Force stationed at Horham, England. He was the oldest member of the crew at 22 years of age. His B17, "The Pride of New Mexico," was hit by flak and the aircraft never made it back from Germany. He and his crew were captured by the Germans and spent about six months as POWs. The book tells of his life during the period of his capture until returning to the states to his wife and daughter. I was fortunate enough to meet his daughter and Lucille, his wife of 71 years.

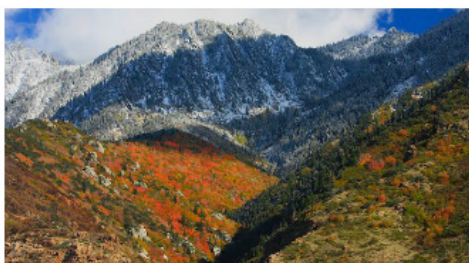

We meet all sorts of heroes. I guess what caught my attention about this navigator was the time he spent after WWII. It did not matter about his political affiliation, religious beliefs or the color of his skin. What mattered to me were the sacrifices that he had made so that the rest of us could live here with the freedoms that we share. Even little freedoms like being allowed to express our opinions in our local newspaper.

My sincere thanks to you, Lt. Col. Gordon Redtfeldt, and to all the others who sacrificed and served.

Minutes of the 388th Bombardment Group (H) Association
64th Meeting of the General Membership
October 5, 2013 Oklahoma City, OK

The 64th annual meeting of the 388th Bombardment Group Association (72 members and a number of guests) was called to order at 10:08 a.m. The flag salute was led by President Ben Forrest Jr and the invocation was given by Jim Ragland.

Minutes

Since all attendees receive a written copy of the 2012 minutes at the meeting, a motion to waive an oral reading was seconded and accepted by a majority vote.

Treasurer's Report

The annual treasurer's report is to be published in the Winter 2013 issue of the Fortress of Freedom newsletter.

Board Business

Secretary Linda Soo shares that in the past year, the Association welcomed a member of the original 388th Bomb Group: James R. Bradshaw of the 560th Sq., as well as 28 new associate members. She reports that of the estimated 1100 members on the current Active List, about 470 are original 388th Bomb Group members. Correspondence with members by mail, e-mail, and telephone is always welcome. Changes in addresses should be sent promptly to keep membership lists current.

Newsletter Editors Tom Dennis Sr and Tom Dennis Jr (assisted by Barbara Dennis) ask members to keep sending personal stories and articles for publication in the newsletter. Are there other kinds of articles members would like to read? Members receiving the electronic version of the newsletter help the Association save money by eliminating printing and postage costs. Tom Jr learned that by having the printers fold the newsletter, $400 was saved on the mailed copies!

Senior Director Henry Curvat is honored to have served the last three years on the Board of Directors in the offices of First Vice President, President, and Senior Director.

Director-at-Large Harry Sprague was unable to attend and sent his regrets. He commends the current officers "for doing a first class job and keeping the association going. So many others have failed but ours is vibrant. I talk to my grandchildren and from what they tell me they are not taught anything about WWII. I think that is an oversight in our education system to bypass such a critical time in our history."

Corporate Agent Rickard Sundblad was also not able to attend this year's reunion, but would like to continue with his responsibilities for the Association.

Historian Dick Henggeler reports that there are now over 2000 photographs in the database, www.388bg.org. He requests more information regarding the mechanics and ground crews of the 388th Bomb Group. He is also interested in organizing a 3-day tour to England next July, which includes visits to the Knettishall air field and Memorial and the annual Duxford Air Show. (More details to come.)

Parliamentarian Kelly Moore is pleased to serve another year on the Board and to help us observe Robert's Rules of Order.

First Vice President Rick Thompson notes that our focus is to honor the history and deeds of the WWII 388th BG members. Can we do more? How do we further their legacy in the future?

Second Vice President Steve Butner, the Association's first 3rd generation Board officer, has enjoyed the opportunity to get to know everyone better. He is agreeable to becoming the next editor for the newsletter.

Reports from Liaisons

Jim Morrow, liaison for the "City of Savannah" B-17 restoration at the Mighty Eighth Air Force Museum in Pooler, GA, continues to make periodic visits to check the progress of this Flying Fortress, which celebrates its 70th birthday in December, 2014. Jim is also registered to participate for a second time in the Mighty Eighth Air Force Museum's 5K Flying Fortress Run, which benefits the B-17's restoration.

Jan Pack-Singer, liaison to the U.K., was not able to attend the annual meeting and was missed. Jan sent a detailed report about the 2012-13 activities of the Memorial Trustees Committee. (See this issue.)

Wayne Daniels, liaison to the 388th Fighter Wing, Tactical Fighter Wing, and Fighter Bomber Wing, hopes to meet with the new commander at Hill Air Force Base, Colonel Lance K. Landrum, as well as officials and historians at Hill Aerospace Museum to discuss further progress on the 388th Bomb Group display.

PX Update

Christy Wammack is our PX Coordinator. She reports a continuing profit from reunion and PX purchases. Two new PX items that are available are a 388th rhinestone pin and bumper stickers.

New Officers, 2013-14

The Association welcomes these new Board members:

1st Vice President: Terry Woodford-Thomas
(Rotates to President and then to Senior Director)
2nd Vice President: Col. Scott Long
Secretary: Gail Stonefield
Newsletter Editor: Steve Butner
Director at Large: Jim Zogrophos

Reunions 2013, 2014, and 2015

Members expressed appreciation for another fun, interesting, and well-planned annual get-together in Oklahoma City by Reunion Planner Jennifer Wammack. THANK YOU to Jen and her helpers!
Hill Air Force Base and Layton, UT is the Western U.S. area site for our reunion in late August, 2014. Reunion Planners Frances and Paul Ammons gave a brief informative slideshow presentation. They are enthusiastic about the plans for another great time.
Jennifer presented cities Williamsburg, VA and Washington, DC as the proposed 2015 Eastern U.S. area reunion sites. After a spirited discussion of both, the majority of members voted to make a return visit to Washington, DC for their annual reunion.

Business was concluded and the motion to adjourn was seconded and carried by a unanimous vote. The meeting was then adjourned by President Forrest.

Respectfully submitted,
Linda D. Soo, Secretary
